

WritingGroup.java

```
1 package cecs323.jdbcproject.pojos;
2
3 /
4  * The WritingGroup class is a POJO (Plain Old Java Object) that is used to
5  * compartmentalize the attributes of an entry in the WritingGroups table.
6  *
7  * @author Nicholas
8  */
9 public class WritingGroup {
10     /
11      * The name of the WritingGroup.
12      *
13      * Must be no more than 30 characters in length.
14      */
15     public String groupName;
16
17     /
18      * The name of the head writer in this WritingGroup.
19      *
20      * Must be no more than 30 characters in length.
21      */
22     public String headWriter;
23
24     /
25      * The year that this WritingGroup was formed.
26      *
27      * Must be exactly 4 characters in length.
28      */
29     public String yearFormed;
30
31     /
32      * The subject that this WritingGroup writes about.
33      *
34      * Must be no more than 50 characters in length.
35      */
36     public String subject;
37
38     /
39      * Creates a new WritingGroup object with the given name, head writer, year
40      * and subject.
41      *
42      * @param name the name of the writing group
43      * @param head the head writer of the writing group
44      * @param year the year in which the group formed
45      * @param subj the subject that the group writes about
46      */
47     public WritingGroup(String name, String head, String year, String subj) {
48         this.groupName = name;
49         this.headWriter = head;
50         this.yearFormed = year;
51         this.subject = subj;
52     }
53 }
54
```